Socrates - Care of the Soul

Care of the Soul produces a life that is based around one's soul (identity) and not the material world. The qualities that these four elements produce in a human are what Plato considers arete (i.e. skill in living). Arete then is: Piety, Wisdom, Courage, and Justice.

Care of the Soul - Everything2.com

Care of the soul is a continuous process that concerns itself not so much with "fixing" a central flaw as with attending to the small details of everyday life, as well as to major decisions and changes. Care of the soul may not focus on the personality or on relationships at all, and therefore it is not psychological in the usual sense.
